IRISH POISED FOR JOY DAY

By TONY SWEENEY

THREE banker bets—Mr. Kildare, Ballyross and Jack of Trumps—along with a real prospect of going through the card!

This is the exciting prospect for a record-sized Irish crowd booked into Cheltenham this week.

I nap Mr. Kildare to become the sixth successive Irish-trained winner of the Sun Alliance Hurdle (2.30).

He is a really brilliant young horse sure to be in Champion Hurdle class by this time next year.

Mr. Kildare has won two of his three hurdle races and ran a blinder to finish second to Prominent King at Leopardstown. Paddy Prendergast's dream of a Cheltenham win in his own colours should come true with Ballyross in the Sun Alliance 'Chase (4.15).

He outstayed Siberian Sun over two and a quarter miles at Leopardstown and will be more effective at today's trip.

Short of being knocked down, it is impossible to see how Jack Of Trumps can be beaten in the National Hunt 'Chase (4.50).

Siberian Sun (3.05), Romany Count (3.40) and Vaguely Attractive (5.25) are my other selections.

GET ON A WINNER WITH THE TOP TEAM

Southern Darling to fly the flag!

WITH sixteen runners, and a representative in every race, the Irish hopes of giving us a hammering at the opening of Cheltenham today are very real.

By NEWSBOY

(Bob Butchers)

I am settling for the English and Irish to share the spoils, but it is inevitable that the challengers will increase their post-war total of 121 Cheltenham wins.

Determination to maintain some loyalty prompts me to go for a long-shot English double with Southern Darling (3.40) and Ballet Lord (4.15).

Southern Darling, from the in-form Josh Gifford stable, is napped to win the Joe Coral Golden Hurdle Final. There is sufficient in the form book to substantiate his chance.

He was a remote third to Lacson at Wincanton on Boxing Day, but was a different proposition when taking on the same horse over this course more than a couple of months ago.

Southern Darling seemed sure to be a respectable second to Lacson until he blundered and lost his jockey at the final flight. Now, with a pull of 8lb., he can beat Lacson.

Ballet Lord represents Yorkshire in the Sun Alliance 'Chase, but this is a very open three-miler.

Strombolus and Samuel Pepys are probably the best of the other home-trained runners, but there is a formidable Irish trio in the field. Ballyross, Counstl Cottage and Thumper will all be strongly supported.

Bright futures

Most of the principals are up and coming 'chasers with bright futures. Now that Ballet Lord seems to have mastered the art of jumping I fancy he will give us a good run.

We are likely to be deafened by the sound of Irish cheers after the opening Sun Alliance Hurdle (2.30).

It will be a surprise if they do not win it with Mr. Kildare. He ended the Flat season with handicap wins under tremendous burdens and his hurdling efforts make him a banker. Silver Buck and Hallodri are the best of ours.

Another Irish challenger with that sure-to-win look is Jack of Trumps. He misses the Sun Alliance 'Chase to go for the easier National Hunt 'Chase (4.50). This four miles race for amateur riders seems at his mercy.

Earlier, stablemate Kilmakilloge can take the National Hunt Champion 'Chase (3.05). He has not had a lot of racing in the last couple of years, but made a sparkling return to winning form in Ireland a month ago.

The Grand Annual 'Chase (5.25) may rest between Young Arthur and sole Irish challenger Vaguely Attractive.

There is a good form line which suggests Young Arthur will help to keep the English hopes alive.

Racing at Sedgefield is overshadowed, but I think Wily Talke is well handicapped in the Robin Simpson 'Chase (3.50).

JOSH GIFFORD Trains Southern Darling.

BALLET LORD'S CHANCE

By TIM RICHARDS

COLIN HAWKINS will be on his happy hunting ground at Cheltenham today when he rides Ballet Lord in the Sun Alliance 'Chase (4.15).

Middleham-based Colin, 22, son of a Warrington butcher, was a big hit there in December when he won the Massey-Ferguson on Even Melody.

Colin told me yesterday: "I've had only three mounts there.

"Even Melody was also second in the Mackeson, but Ballet Lord spoiled my record by falling."

Neville Crump's exciting 'chaser has completed a hat-trick since that Cheltenham lapse in December, when he hadn't fully recovered from a previous Doncaster spill.

BLINKERS FOR BIRDS NEST

BIRDS NEST is to be fitted with blinkers for the first time in tomorrow's Waterford Crystal Champion Hurdle.

Bob Turnell said yesterday: "Birds Nest does not pay as much attention as he might; he is a little inclined to look about him."
