Street to earn his corn

Rags to riches

RAGS TO riches horses Humberside Lady and Cats Eyes landed the money again at Aintree yesterday. Both began as selling platers but have progressed to become top novices, writes Charles Fawcus.

NEWSBOY (Bob Butchers) goes for the specialists in heavy ground

THE HEAVY ground specialists should be to the fore at Lingfield today, and all seems set for Corn Street.

He ran well at Doncaster last week, and now can turn the tables on Milk Heart in the Graisons Handicap (3.40). A bigger danger may be Flyhome.

Marley Roofus won in heavy ground at Chepstow in October beating a Guy Harwood hotpot. I reckon he will beat Baton Passer, also trained by Harwood, in the Wade Furnishings Stakes (1.45).

A winner for Guy should be Dastina in the East Grinstead Stakes (5.15), but a better-priced scorer could be Bunter in the Union Transport Handicap (2.15). He has not won the Flat since 1981, but recently scored here over hurdles.

Alqirm has good claims in the Oxted Stakes (4.15), but the most successful trainer on the Flat today could be Ian Vickers.

Ian has runners at Edinburgh, and top weight may not stop Pergoda in the Marshall Racing Anniversary H'cap (2.40)., this one has already shaped well this season.

Stablemate Run Easy was beaten earlier this week, but she should make amends in the Marshall Racing Selling Stakes (4.20).

Tromeros looks to be the answer to the Crazy Maiden Stakes (3.05).

George Moore has made a good start since taking over from his mother-in-law Moira Nesbitt. He has had three jumping wins, and now can have his first on the Flat with Excavator Lady in the Double Horseshoe Handicap (3.50).

Over the jumps at Hereford I give a really good chance to Spaced Out in the Katie Gaze Chase (4.50).

Randomly (3.50) and Mr Moonraker (4.20) are others that should be in the money at this meeting.

GUY HARWOOD

Andy shows his style

AINTREE'S formidable fences proved no problem to 22-year-old amateur rider Andy Orkney yesterday.

He jumped nine of them without any stirrup irons after breaking one on Golden Ty in the Fox Hunters Chase. "It was an experience", said Andy afterwards.

Golden Ty finished strongly in third place but was promoted to second on the disqualification of Peace Clash.

Bubbly race for Epsom

MICHAEL Druitt Wines, the United Kingdom agents for Perrier-Jouet Champagne, are to sponsor a new £10,000 race at Epsom on Thursday, June 6.

The Perrier-Jouet Handicap Stakes, a twelve-furlongs event for three-year-olds only, will be run on the same day as Epsom's Coronation Cup.
