Betting Forecast.—10-11 Badsworth Boy, 9-2 Western Rose, 8 Fearless Imp, 8 Artifice, News King, 12 Snowtown Boy.

TV SPOTFORM ANALYSIS: BADSWORTH BOY could not have been more impressive at Cheltenham (2m) recently when coming home a distance clear of ARTIFICE (levels), with NEWS KING (levels) six lengths back in third and DRUMGORA (levels) a further length and a half behind in fourth. Gives weight all round today, but should prove up to the task.

WESTERN ROSE, winner of this race two years ago, holds his form well. Held an gamely to score a length-and-a-half success from Sea Merchant (gave 11lb) at Doncaster (2m 150y) in January.

Betting Forecast.—13-8 Gaye Brief, 11-4 For Auction, 7-2 Boreen Prince, 8 Broadsword.

TV SPOTFORM ANALYSIS: GAYE BRIEF won the Champion Hurdle at Cheltenham (2m) last month in fine style. Had three lengths to spare over BOREEN PRINCE with FOR AUCTION seven lengths back in third and BROADSWORD a further head behind in fourth. Was always going well and, despite blundering at the last, won with a bit to spare. Should confirm those placings on today's terms.

BOREEN PRINCE, behind in the early stages in that race, finished in fine style to record a much-improved performance.

FOR AUCTION stuck to his task well, but was always fighting a losing battle on ground that proved too firm for his liking. Will probably be suited by today's trip.

HENRY KISSINGER was not disgraced when beaten eight lengths by Richdee (levels) at Ascot (2m 4f) on Wednesday.

Mossy Moore does not run, states trainer

Betting Forecast.—3 Quistador, 9-2 Glenhawk, 5 Bold Image, 13-2 Superwizz, 8 Brock Hill, Haresceugh, 10 Wild Geese, Glasgow Central, 12 Applante.

SPOTFORM ANALYSIS: B AND K EMPEROR, winner of this race last year, has not been in sparkling form so far this season, but was not disgraced at Ayr (2m) in January when fifth to Pulse Rate (rec 8lb). Handily weighted on his best form.

QUISTADOR took advantage of a winning weight at Ludlow (2m) last month to record a length-and-a-half success from Dobsons Choice (rec 5lb). Sure to win more races off his present handicap before the season ends.

GLENHAWK is a bit inconsistent. Ran quite well to finish a length-and-a-half runner-up to Original Step (rec 8lb) at Newbury (2m 100y) last month.

Betting Forecast: 11-4 Sabin du Loir, 7-2 Alastor O Mavros, 5 Boreen Deas, 6 Corrib Duke, 8 Bofey Quinn, 10 Permabos, Bullring.

SPOTFORM ANALYSIS: SABIN DU LOIR maintained his unbeaten record at Cheltenham (2m 4f) last month with a comfortable three-length success from Dawn Run (gave 13lb). Obviously an above-average juvenile.

ALASTOR O MAVROS, one of this season's leading juveniles, was found wanting for pace from the last in the Daily Express Triumph Hurdle at Cheltenham (2m), finishing seven-and-a-half lengths adrift of Seven Fern. Quite a useful stayer on the Flat, he will appreciate this trip.

CORRIB PRINCE will strip fresher than most. Having only his third run over hurdles when beaten a short head by Monte (rec 5lb) at Navan (2m) last month. Capable of a bold show here.

1982: (Tom Pepper Hurdle) LE GRAN BRUN, 11-3, 11-2, Smith Eccles (P Cundell), 9 ran.

Brief to show the way

MERCY RIMELL Trains Gaye Brief

By NEWSBOY (Bob Butchers)

GAYE BRIEF, an easy winner of the Champion Hurdle, is a really exciting prospect and I hope he'll be able to consolidate his top position in the Sun Templegate Hurdle (2.35) at Liverpool today.

Although winning would seem to be a straightforward affair, we have seen Cheltenham form turned inside out on too many occasions.

Boreen Prince, For Auction and Broadsword chased home Gaye Brief in the Champion and are taking him on again.

This time they have an extra five furlongs to cover and that should suit Gaye Brief better than any of them. I can't believe the Champion will be beaten here.

Michael Dickinson is back on the warpath with some strongly-fancied runners.

Unbeaten

Badsworth Boy is unbeaten this season and can make amends for his unlucky fall in the Park Hampers 'Chase (2.00) last year.

Stablemate Sabin du Loir is also unbeaten this term and will probably remain so after the Fosters Lager Hurdle (5.05).

Gay Spartan fell at Cheltenham but had previously made a marvellous come back to score twice after a long absence.

This Dickinson runner seemed sure to start favourite for the M.F.I. 'Chase (4.05), but I think he may find it hard to give 4lb to Henry Kissinger.

The Ladbroke Hurdle (4.35) for amateur riders is a wide open handicap. Bold Image and Brock Hill are in form, but I prefer Haresceugh.

He won a couple of novice events before running unplaced behind Very Promising here on Thursday.

Keep the National Forever!

GRAND NATIONAL AINTREE CAMPAIGN

The public Campaign is now launched to raise the money still needed to buy Aintree Racecourse and to protect forever an immensely popular part of our British heritage . . . The Grand National.

The Campaign has already had tremendous support from Jockey Club members, owners, trainers and jockeys, bookmakers, business and the City, the USA, Ireland and Liverpool, the home of Aintree itself.

Such is the importance and following of this unique race.

We are in sight of raising £2 million, almost half the £4 million required by 1st May 1983 to secure, once and for all time, Aintree Racecourse and the Grand National. Join us now in doing all you can to support the Campaign and let's keep the National forever.
