

YOUNG HUSTLER COMES OF AGE?

THE PROFESSIONAL'S OPINION

With the ground at Aintree drying out, the National has been opened up for Young Hustler. Well fancied for the race last year, he was brought down on the first circuit but picked himself up and went on to complete the course. He looked in great shape when I saw him recently, and has the good ground he needs.

Some of the class horses look a bit suspect to me, so I could see Country Member running well from just out of the handicap. Andy Turnell has trained the horse for the race in the same way that he did Maori Venture to win in 1987.
